

ABSTRACT

A ratio of an injection time and a stop time is set to 0.1 to 5.0 when an injection button is operated. Upon operation of the injection
5 button, the injection time and the stop time are repeated at a specified ratio, so that a content can be intermittently injected to a skin including a head skin accurately.